

Deaf Culture Question of the Week – Jan. 17 - 21, 2011
Bill Newell, Principal Washington School for the Deaf

Thanks to 91 readers who have completed the DCQW Survey so far. We have almost made the 100 mark. If you haven't completed it, please take a moment to do so. You will provide us with valuable feedback. Before the end of this school year I will publish the results of the survey. See link at bottom of this week's question.

“Tower Clock” is the name of the yearbook from which of these colleges serving deaf and hard-of-hearing students?

- a) California State University at Northridge, Los Angeles, CA
- b) Gallaudet University, Washington, D.C.
- c) The National Technical Institute for the Deaf, Rochester, NY
- d) Southwest Collegiate Institute for the Deaf, Big Spring, Texas

Scroll down for the answer.

Answer: “b” – The Gallaudet University yearbook is called “Tower Clock”

The official website for the Tower Clock yearbook is here:

<http://www.towerclock.org/>

The first yearbook for Gallaudet University was published in 1941. Gallaudet University also has an archive of the yearbooks of Schools for the Deaf. The other answer choices represent college programs serving deaf and hard of hearing students. If you are a parent or guardian of a deaf or hard-of-hearing child who is considering attending college after high school, why not take a moment to visit the websites of these schools and begin discussing with your child possibly attending one of these schools.

The following website provides information about how to access the Deaf School Yearbooks Archive at Gallaudet University Library.

Please take a few minutes to complete the DCQW Survey:

DCQW has been published weekly during the school year since January 2008. We want to collect information about who reads DCQW, how you use it, which kinds of questions you like best, etc. We created a short survey to collect information. It is completely anonymous. Please take a few moments to complete our survey. Your feedback will be greatly appreciated.
